

NEW! EVERY MONDAY AND WEDNESDAY Edited by PAUL VALE

StarComm

THE WEEK'S TOP MOBILE PHONES

Nokia E63
Price dependant on contract

AVAILABLE in this dazzling red (as well as ultramarine blue), Nokia's new E63 is a mass-market version of the E71 business phone, boasting shortcuts to email, blogs and the Internet, plus remote access to your PC. It also has 1GB of online storage. There's also a digital camera, music downloads via the Nokia Music Store and a 3.5mm audio jack.

LG Cookie (pink)
Price dependant on contract

WITH Valentine's Day just around the corner (it's the 14th February if you're single), LG has released this dashing pink Cookie, an ideal gift for any tech-friendly young belle. On board it's got a 3-inch touchscreen, including a full QWERTY keyboard and ample multimedia. The handset, which is currently exclusive to Orange, is in the shops now.

Colourful Phones!

NEWS

★ IF YOU'RE looking to immortalise yourself on the web without the hassle of setting up a website, a new mobile-optimised online directory is available, offering .tel domain names (paul.tel, for example). The service allows you to store, manage and publish all your different contact details, including mobile number, email addresses, Facebook page, Twitter address, MySpace page and so on. If you want to ensure you get your dream name, apply before March during the premium period, otherwise wait till the end of March when it's cheaper and chance your luck on the name. To register a domain name visit www.telnic.org.